How it works

Interested students will be invited to a zoom placement call in order to determine the students respective German level and to check whether or not the student is eligible for the program, before finalizing the booking.

After taking our verbal placement test, students will join one of our morning classes according to their current German level with an average size of 8 students and 12 max. In addition to the basic skills of reading, listening, writing and speaking, lessons also focus on grammar and vocabulary.

Up to three job interviews will be arranged for the student during the language course. Preparation for the interviews is included in the price. If the job placement is a success and a B1 language level has been reached, the participant then begins a 4 to 6 month seasonal job. All offered jobs are in the field of tourism (waiting tables, house keeping, kitchen help, selling tickets, working in a ski resort etc.). Depending on the season this usually takes place at Lake Constance or in the Alps (GER/AUS) in other words, where other people go on vacation.

Upon request and availability we are happy to support in other fields as well.
